with the amendments thereto, and the subsequent JAMES GAVIN AND OSCAR ORD. Volume 1, Published by

BINGHAM & DOUGHTY. INDIAY APOLIS. Judge David McDonald, one of the most eminent lawyers of the State, volunteered the followin. ecommendation of the work:

STATUTES OF INDIANA, BY GAVIN & HORD. - Some months ago, the above named gentlemen issued proposals for publishing, in two volumes octavo of some 800 pages each, al the statutes of the State passed since 1851, with annotations. The first volume of the work is now published; and Walnut Street House, tions. The first volume of the work as now published; and the manner of its execution, both mechanically and editorially, deserves the thanks of the profession. The imperfect manner of publishing our statutes under State authority, has always been a source of great inconvenience to the Indiana Lawyer. The revision of 1852, as well as the statutes passed since that year, might almost aswell have been published without any index. Up to thistime the lawyer has constantly been under the neces-sity of turning over, leaf by leaf, the volumes o our statutes to find any particular enactment. And every one knows how annoying and provoking this is, especially in the hurry of business as in our Courts. Happily for the profession, the publication under consideration promises a better state of things in the future. The first volume o Proprietor, Messrs. Gavin & Hord's work contains an excellent and opious index, which to every practicing lawyer in the tate is itself worth the money which the volume costs. The volume under review contains another excellence allits pages are supplied with valuable marginal indices.

to that a glance at the margin is sufficient to apprise the eader of the contents of the page. Another matter of great importance to the lawyer in this volume is a good collection of the subjects of all legislation since 1851. Heretofore, the lawyer in examining our legislation on any given subject had first to find what was relevant to it in the Revision of 1852, and then to turn over the pages of the volumes of subsequent Statutes, to see how far recent legislation may have repealed or mod fied the provisions contained in that Revision, and even then he would often feel doubt whether he had found aft the legislation on the subject of his inquiry. Messrs. Gavin and Hord have relieved us of all this trouble and doubt. They have collected together in consecutive pages all the statutes made since 1851, on the same subject. Thus, on pages 373 to 377 of their first volume they have collected all our legislation, now in force, on the subject o husband and wife, including the act of 1852 and three act of 1857. And they have followed the same mode a coother topics of legislation.

ocation, in appropriate consecutive pages, in regard to all A still more valuable feature are the copious and accurate notes contained in the volume in question. This volume includes the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of Indiana, and several important acts of Virginia and statutes of Congress, and a large portion o our own statutes now in force. The numerous decisions of the Courts on the various provisions contained in these Constis tutions and statutes are found at the bottom of the appropriate pages, in the form of neat, brief and accurate noteand references. Messrs, Gavin & Hord seem to have performed this part of their work exceedingly well. It must have cost them much care and labor. By it they have greatly lessened the labor of the practising lawyer, and have well merited his grateful approval. In every respect the volume under review is highly reditable to the dilligence, accuracy, talents and the taste of its editors, as well as to the mechanical skill and neatness of its publishers, and it must raise the just expectation of the profession, as to the value of the second volume, which we understand will be forthcoming in a few months, and which will contain the code of pleading and practice o-1852, with subsequent amendments and other statutes. Without any concert with the editors or publishers of the volume in question, the writer of this article has been induced to compose and publish this little review of the book, solely because he believes the editors and publishers deserve high commendation for their performance. He, therefore, deems it but just to them, without being solicited to it by any one, to publish this notice of the book, DAVID McDONALD.

The first volume is now ready and being delivered to PRICE 84 50. BINGHAM & DOUGHTY.

Wood, Dear Sir-In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending to the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced failing off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but receiving no assurances from them that my hair could again be restored. I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until fortunately in the latter part of the year 1857, your restorative was recom-mended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to

Dear Sin.—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been baid ever since his early youth, so much so that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. Very respectfully.

A. M. LATTA,

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the road side, from which my head received a most terrible blow, causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire sur-face of the head.
